Aoraki Mount Cook (3,754m / 12,316ft) is an impressive and massive peak with five sides, six faces and seven main ridges. The mountain has a vertical rise from valley to summit of over 2500m. There is no easy route to the top and gaining the summit is a significant achievement.

---

Guide Ratio

We guide Aoraki Mount Cook on a 1:1 basis due to the technical nature of the terrain.

Our Aoraki Mount Cook guided ascent operates over a six-day period which enables us to fly into Plateau Hut at the base of the mountain, from where the climb is staged. We aim to make the ascent during the most favourable period for weather and conditions, and on occasion will make a high bivvy, which puts us in close proximity to the summit the following day.

The usual route that we climb on Aoraki Mount Cook is the Linda Glacier route. We must first weave through the crevasse field on the lower part of the glacier before turning to head into the upper Linda Glacier. Progress is made to the head of the glacier and onto the sustained snow/ice face of the Linda Shelf, where the ground becomes increasingly steep. From the Linda Shelf, we climb a moderately steep (55°) snow and ice gully and gain the ridge near the top of Zurbriggens Ridge. After this, we must tackle the Summit Rocks for several pitches up rock that is often iced up. Having negotiated the pitches of mixed climbing through the summit rocks we revert to straight snow and ice climbing again to ascend the final summit ice cap through to the highest point in New Zealand!

We allow 16-22 hours for the return trip from Plateau Hut and hence an early morning alpine start is necessary on the day of the summit climb. Fitness and route conditions are the factors that determine the exact timing. Climbers attempting Aoraki Mount Cook should come prepared for a very physical and demanding climb. It may only have the ultimate elevation of 3,754m/12,316ft, but it is still a challenging ascent. The Linda route is the most commonly climbed and is a classic mountaineering adventure, requiring good technical skills and stamina.

Other more technical routes are available on application to those with the necessary experience, such as the East Ridge or Zurbriggen's Ridge.

Cultural Background

Aoraki Mount Cook is a topuni area of significant cultural value to Ngai Tahu Maori of the South Island of New Zealand. The summit of Aoraki is regarded as the head of one of their ancestors and is therefore tapu or sacred. Adventure Consultants respects the wishes of Ngai Tahu, hence we do not stand on the summit but remain a few metres from the top of the mountain.

If you must bow your head, then let it be to the lofty mountain Aoraki.

Itinerary

Day One Meet your guide in Mt Cook Village or in Wanaka for the drive to Mt Cook. Check gear and fly into the mountains to Plateau Hut in the early afternoon.

Day Two Acclimatisation day, consolidate skills or ascend a practice peak such as Mt Dixon.

Day Three Summit day, start 1am, and finish 7pm! OR climb part of the route then bivvy out overnight.

Day Four Second day of the climb, rest day, contingency day or fly out on a back flight to Mt Cook Airport.

Day Five Weather contingency day

Day Six Weather contingency day, or alternative activity (such as rock climbing).

Access to the Mountain

The benefit of flying in and out is that it alleviates the long walk in and the usual necessary recovery day, and it allows more time to be spent on actual climbing in the high mountains. Most importantly it can allow us to take advantage of 'windows' of fine weather which are typical of the maritime climate of New Zealand. Access and egress flights are included in the trip price.

Our Guides

Adventure Consultants guides are NZMGA and/or IFMGA qualified mountain guides. They are professional mountaineers and operate to the highest industry standards.

Being a great climber alone is not enough to work with us; our standards demand that trip leaders are great guides as well. You will find your guide friendly, approachable and focused on providing a safe and enjoyable trip in line with your objectives and comfort level.

Success with the highest margin of care is always a hallmark of our approach; promoting the realisation that even extreme pursuits such as high-altitude mountaineering can be undertaken safely.

Adventure Consultants employs only IFMGA or NZMGA qualified guides, the most advanced training and certification program in New Zealand and internationally. In order to gain these qualifications guides must undergo rigorous training and assessment on climbing skills, instructional skills, avalanche training and assessment, wilderness first aid, rescue training and much more. The qualification takes many years (5-7) to attain and ensures you are getting a world-class professional service.

Communication and Messages

Our guides are in radio/cell/satellite phone communication with our operations base and Department of Conservation headquarters throughout the trip. This assists us with schedule and weather forecast updates, helicopter co-ordination and safety back up. Urgent messages can be relayed via our office to the field if required. Each party carries a locator beacon for additional security.

Climbing Season

We guide Aoraki Mount Cook all year as conditions allow. In November and December, we can expect more snow cover on the routes and as temperatures warm up into the summer months of January and February, we traditionally experience more settled weather and mixed climbing conditions (snow, ice and rock). From March through April, late summer conditions exist and daylight hours get shorter. Subject to seasonal conditions access up the Linda Glacier can be compromised at certain times. In the event that access is restricted, or the hazard rating is high, we will offer an alternative route or peak.

Winter conditions are less predictable and days shorter, however, for experienced climbers, the winter solitude will be incredibly rewarding.

Weather

New Zealand has a maritime climate and the weather is always a consideration in the high mountains. For the climbing season (November to April) the average temperature ranges from around -5°C up to +20°C, during the winter this can drop to -10°C or -15°C. There is no heating source in the huts, so you need to be prepared for cold overnight temperatures.

In the event conditions are not suitable to enter the mountains at the start of the trip, we can delay for up to two days subject to your guides' schedule. We recommend you allow some flexibility with your travel arrangements to create this advantage. When booking your trip, please specify the dates you are available.

Equipment

Climbing in the Southern Alps requires you have the highest quality clothing and equipment due to the extremes of weather conditions. Our focus is on having the essential clothing and equipment while keeping your pack as light as possible.

Your guide will go through an equipment checklist with you at the beginning of your trip. Actual equipment taken may vary subject to seasonal weather and route conditions. All group equipment including ropes and cooking equipment will be organised by your guide.

We can offer secure storage at our office for your luggage and valuables during the trip.

Fitness and Health

To make the most of your climbing experience we encourage you to work on your fitness prior to the trip. You will find that training with a 15kg + pack on is the best preparation for the mountains, with the aim of getting 'pack fit' and building your endurance. Your guide places special focus on fitness levels and will regulate the pace accordingly.

Our registration form requests that you advise us of any medical problems you may have and if you are on any medication. Any information you supply will be treated as confidential.

Food

We place emphasis on providing nutritious meals and a good supply of snack food throughout the trip. If you have any special dietary requirements, please advise us at the time of registration.

Insurance

We strongly recommend that you take out trip cancellation and travel insurance to protect yourself in the case of injury or mishap prior to/ or whilst on our trips.

While our focus is on safety and our track record supports this, the mountains do have hazards and there is always the potential for mishap. If you were injured whilst on the trip the New Zealand Accident Compensation Commission (ACC) will pay rescue costs upon review of the circumstances and authorisation by the Police. This service may not apply to evacuation costs for medical conditions. You may not be eligible for bulk compensation payments from ACC, and you are responsible for any medical or evacuation costs beyond the cover provided by ACC.

Travel and Accommodation

We commence our Mt Cook trip from our base in Wanaka. Air New Zealand and Qantas/Jetstar provide daily services for flights from Christchurch, Auckland and Wellington to Queenstown. There are also direct international flights from Australian cities to Queenstown.

A shuttle service operates several times daily between Queenstown and Wanaka (approximately one hour driving time and at a cost of $35 each way), check <http://www.alpineconnexions.co.nz> for details.

Bus services operate daily between Christchurch and Wanaka (approximately 6 hours travel time).

Wanaka has a range of accommodation from backpackers, youth hostels, motels, and hotels to luxury lodges.

We are happy to assist with your accommodation and bus transfer arrangements.

Please note: Adventure Consultants will provide food and accommodation while the trip is running which is from 9.00am on Day 1 until 5.00pm on Day 6. All food and accommodation outside this time will be at your expense.

Accommodation during the Trip

Adventure Consultants will provide your accommodation while the trip is running, which is from 9.00am on Day 1 until 5.00pm on Day 6. When in the mountains you will stay in mountain huts with shared bunkrooms and basic facilities. There are no single rooms available and unlike European huts, you need to provide your own sleeping bag. Some mountain nights may be spent in tents or bivvys where you will be more exposed to the elements, but the final decision on this will be made by your guide after weighing up all the factors.

If our schedule requires us to overnight at Aoraki Mount Cook Village either side of the trip, so we utilise the New Zealand Alpine Club facilities at Unwin Hut which has dormitory style accommodation and if in Wanaka, we accommodate you in dormitory style backpackers with shared bathroom facilities. You may decide to upgrade to single accommodations in Wanaka or at Aoraki Mount Cook Village at your own expense, should you require.
